Special presentation: UCLA Centennial Celebration

Andrés Cuervo, Maria Blandizzi

- Cuervo: We've been working for the last two years on the framework and team for this moment. We're thrilled to give you all a preview for this celebration. This is an advanced overview of the year and we appreciate keeping this within the family. We're empowering you to use this logo to think about who to commemorate. We see this as an opportunity to deepen the connection with stakeholders and LA, as well as to amplify the impact and stories of UCLA. Week of May 1st will kick off the centennial plans are unveiled. Save May 18th as the official marker of the launch of the centennial. The graduation sashes became available in January. They're going to have the centennial logo on them as well. We have two classes 2019 2020. The week leading up to the 18th will be I heart UCLA week. The student preview on the 17th. Celebration begins on the 18th commemorating 100 years of UCLA. All of this information is available on the website. Alumni day includes networking, tours, experiences, performances, dining, and tours. There will be tunnel tours which not a lot of people get access to. We will also be having some special speakers along with student performances.
- The marquee events we have planned for the year:
 - May 18th is the opening day.
 - May 20th we're going to Sacramento.
 - May 22nd celebration in DTLA. June centennial class graduations.
 - June 8 UCLA 100 celebration at LA pride.
 - June 23-25 Chancellor hosts APRU presidents.
 - August 18-30 UCLA 100 celebrations abroad.
 - September 28 UCLA volunteer day.

 - November 3 exploring your universe: celebrating UCLA's centennial
 - January 1, 2020 tournament of roses

- All of this is possible thanks to University Credit Union
 - Initiative 1: led by the UCLA library consisting of nearly two dozen components to erase barriers that limit access to the materials and scholarship produced at UCLA.
 - Initiative 2: multimedia exhibit being organized by different cultures. Going to be a traveling exhibit
 - Initiative 3: exhibit organized by the fowler and 11 campus units. First time physical knowledge of university is meeting in one space. Will be accompanied by fiat lux class.
 - Initiative 4: out of school edu are bringing together 10 research centers across the university. Doing research on inequality in housing, transportation. We ask students what solutions and ideas you have to tackle these problems.
 - These are by no means final, we are continuing ideas. We're going to have a website that will house all this information on April 30th.
 - Thanks so much for having me I'm here as a resource to all you.

Q&A/Comment

- Sarena: You talked a lot about reaching out to the community, how do you plan on doing that?
- A: The marquee events are free and open to everyone. We're partnering with community organizations to make sure they reach angelenos. We're working with central city org, the music center, the grand park, kcrw, different outlets that angelenos are connected to. We're hoping the banners throughout the city also peak the interest of angelenos.
- Sarena: Is there a chance for reaching to high schoolers?
- A: Through the summer the 10 research centers will be working with teachers across the city. We're also doing a printed calendar guide for Angelenos.
- Nidira: What does the outreach and inclusion of South LA looks like?
- A: We want to be responsible in how we come to communities. As a number 1 public elite institution. We want to be aware of not just coming into a community we've never been to. The events are free to make them accessible. All four initiatives are around equity. We want to make sure we empower communities in ways meaningful for them
- Nidira: How can we as council members get more involved?
- A: I think there's 3 ways. We encourage all campus units to help us spread the word and attend the events. The second, begins with the history and role of ASUCLA. It was instrumental in the securing of the Westwood campus for the university. The regents were looking for a location and it was because of ASUCLA students to vote yes on city bond to purchase the land we're on and bring the campus here. That's just the beginning. I would love to hear from you as to what's the best way to commemorate the history and the students and how can we a part of your efforts.
- Manzano: Are you all going to have a super over the top commencement speaker and why not this year?
- A: I do want to clarify that I'm only here as a representative and I believe that's a question for the college. The centennial has transformed and shaped. Meaningful speakers is definitely something that's being considered.
- Sarena: You talked about doing tours and you seem like someone who's planning with a lot of intention. I think this would be a great opportunity for the students of color tour. Thoughts on using centennial money to purchase that information?
- A: I am a fan of that tour, we don't have any funds. For Alumni day, there are volunteer efforts by faculty and students to give tours. It'd be incredible for us to be able to know what the plans for those tours are and see if we can incorporate as part of the Centennial launch day.
- Nidira: Are you guys currently traveling?
- A: I'm here for you all, I will share my email.
- Fieldman: Thank you so much!

Eboard Presentation of the Elections Ballot to the Agenda#

Shajari

- Shajari: The cleanest solution would be a special election in the Fall to fill in the missing positions.
- Ender: Another thing to keep in mind, we have to pay $6,000 to myucla to run the elections and if we do a special election we would have to pay another $6,000.
- Nidira: What's your budget this year?
- Kyana: I think it's around like $34,000.
- Nidira: How much have you spent so far for the election?
- Kyana: around $3,000 right now but I want to give you an accurate number.
- Fieldman: We can find money.
- Kyana: Chris did say we can open it up but like Jay was saying you'd have to go through another round of candidate orientations and I feel like to those people it's kind of unfair because the other candidates had more time. I feel uncomfortable with that. I'd be in favor of special election
- Geller: There's one other area and that has to do with the gen rep race and the other two candidates met the deadline and if you open up the gen rep 3 spot you can have them end up not being elected.
- Fieldman: Can we just open up FSC and not gen rep?
- Geller: But then you're still having special election. The delay in taking office really has a negative impact and if you were to delay the election you would be doing that to all of your successors.
- Fieldman: It seems like the smartest thing at this point would be to have a special election.
- Kyana: for the office of president Furkan Yalcin, Millen Srivastava and Robert Blake Watson are running. For Internal Vice President Kimberly Bonifacio is running and is in the For the People slate. For External Vice President Johana Guerra Martinez is running. Eduardo Velazquez (Lalo Velazquez) is running for General Representative and is in the For the People slate. Naomi Riley is running for the Academic Affairs Commission and is in the For the People slate. Oscar Macias is also running for the Academic Affairs Commission. Tara Steinmetz for Campus Events Commission. Jonathan Wiser for Community Service Commissioner. Kelechi Nunny Iheanacho (Kelechi Iheanacho) for the Cultural Affairs Commissioner and is in the For the People slate. Lily Shaw for Facilities Commissioner.  - Hi guys my name is Sean I'm with CALPIRG. I'd just like to talk about the resolution for ending hunger on the agenda today. I wanted to first thank you all for passing the textbook resolution. I'd like you guys to vote yes on that bc it's statement to the UCLA community and the administrators. This is for students who are lacking in their mental and physical academic performance because they're focused on what they're going to eat. I encourage you guys to vote on this resolution.
 - Hi guys I'm Zathara I'm the External affairs director for CALPIRG. Over spring break we were running our LA campus office building up support to ban styrofoam. We're working to ban the use of this toxic plastic. This past week we've been working to tell a lot of students about our work and get them involved with our campaign.
