IV. Public Comment

Velazquez

Jeffrey: Hello everyone, thank you madam President and members of the council. My name is Jeffrey Umana and I address you tonight in my capacity as the IDEAS Internal Representative. I want to first thank you madam Internal Vice President for your courage and strong display of active allyship in reaching out to IDEAS to bring this matter to council. Sadly it is a role I wish more of your fellow councilmembers have taken per their promises to the undocumented community during the campaign. In any case, I urge all councilmembers to sign onto the statement of solidarity before you tonight. the recent DACA decision impacts undocumented communities in ways that extend far beyond the economic and the academic, it represents yet another time that the immigration system in America continues to place politics over immigrant peoples' very own humanity. In this time of crisis and uncertainty, I ask that you all sign onto this statement to urge the UC and UCLA to take the steps necessary to ensure undocumented students have the resources not only to retain in school, but to live and carry lives of holistic wellness. Council has a responsibility, not as the undocumented community's voice, but as their ally to take every step within their reach to help push our community's needs forward. I also ask that you take the statement's words to heart and actively use your platform and offices to aid our community and fulfill your commitment to help advocate with us to ensure we have what it takes to live the lives we are entitled to. This statement is the first step, we demand action next. Your vote tonight is significant and we will remember just the way it plays out. Thank you.

VI. Special Presentations

USAC Expenditure Viewer Presentation and Demo Linder

Expenditure Transparency

The annual USAC budget is nearly $10,000,000. Some questions arise...

- Is USAC being transparent with its money?
- If so, how do I see the budget?
- Where does that money come from?
- What is the money being spent on?
- Is the money being spent efficiently?
- Are our student fees being put to good use?

Features

- Expenditure data from 2002 - now
- Keywords that display the amount of money spent in that category based on size
- See when the money was spent
- View the size of the transactions
- See where the money comes from
- General ledger (ex. Special fee remittance is money not directly spent by USAC, but that they are delegated to oversee)
- Filter to the data you want
- Raw accounting data displayed as line items
- The line items are searchable

Alternative Solutions

Other ways of solving some of the same problems include...

- Graphics
- Expense Reports

The USAC expenditure viewer has all of the features of these, and more!

Lasting Effects of the Expenditure Viewer

- Increased USAC expenditure transparency
- Better communication between USAC and student body
- More student engagement, better USAC sentiment
- Easier access to financial data during USAC meetings
- Useful for people involved in accounting
- Future updates will make the data even more accessible to students

Where's it at now?

- It is now available through the USAC website
- Newly released, ready to receive feedback from students (and council)
- Next step is to be housed in a USAC office, through a bylaw

Transfer Awareness Training

Chavez, Lam

Community Guidelines

- Speak from your own experience instead of generalizing (“I” instead of “they”, “we,” and “you”).
- Participate to the fullest of your ability - community growth depends on the inclusion of every individual voice.
- Maintain an open mind for new perspectives from this presentation and from others in your community.

Goals

- To become aware of the identities of the transfer community at UCLA, the UC, and beyond;
- To better understand the systemic barriers to access that exist for transfer students;
- To develop and incorporate action items that support transfer students

What is my own history with transfers?

Some questions to ask yourself include...

- How many transfer students do I personally know?
- Are any of my close friends transfer students?
- Are there transfer students in my office?
- Does my office use transfer inclusive language?
- When making decisions, am I including the transfer perspective?
- What do I know or not know about transfer issues and needs?

UCLA Transfer Statistics (2019)

- 6,306 transfer students
- 22-27% of the undergrad population
- 93% come from 1010 CA CC's
- 47% of incoming transfers live in UCLA housing
- Average Age: 23
- 15% are over 35 (about 950 students)
- 44-48% of transfers are first generation college students

Who are UCLA Transfer Students?

- Community College Students
- First-Generation Students
- Non-Traditional Students
- Parenting Students
- International Students
- Financially Independent
- Traditionally Aged Transfer Students
- Veterans
- Commuters
- Athletes
- Undocumented/AB540 Students
- 4-year to 4-year Transfer Students
- System Impacted
- Students who were formerly incarcerated
- Former foster youth
- Students in Recovery
- Out-of-State Students
- Adult Learners/Returning Students

UCLA Transfer History and Department Roles

Since 2001

- Transfer Student program est. 2009 under the BRC
- Transfer Leadership coalition was created in 2014 to advocate for the TSR position

- Office of the TSR was est. 2014
- Became a center and moved to Kerchoff in 2017
- In 2019 the TLC advocated for the Transfer Officer position in UCSA

Roles of CCCP & TSC

- Center for Community College Partnerships
 - Center for outreaching to underrepresented and low-income community college students to empower students and provide guidance on transferring to a four year university.
- Transfer Student Center
 - Center for supporting and connecting students to opportunities and resources through intentional programming

Academic Challenges and Obstacles

- 2-year time constraint
 - Overcoming familial, financial, social, and cultural barriers
 - Barriers to advocacy opportunities because of minimal institutional knowledge
 - Unclear transfer pathways and modes of communication post-transfer
 - Transitional challenges post-graduation for transfer students
- Graduation Rate
 - 2-year transfers graduation rate: 70.9 vs. 4-year freshman graduation rate: 82.3%
- Restrictions on changing major and adding majors
- Adjusting to quarter system
 - Work loads, connecting with professors, and large class size
- Finding/using campus resources
 - Resources weren't created with transfers in mind
- Balancing Responsibilities
 - Families, jobs, commutes, and school
- Financial issues

Transfer Shock

- Transfer shock refers to the tendency of a temporary dip in GPA when student transfer from one institution of higher education to another
- Students may take longer to graduate than those who begin their undergraduate career at a four-year university
- "Transfer shock...may happen for a number of reasons because there are many differences between the community college and the university. Just as with "culture shock" - being in an unfamiliar environment and learning to navigate the skills, tools, and resources available - people tend not to perform at their highest level."

Social Challenges and Obstacles

- Feeling overwhelmed
 - Time management
- Lack a Sense of Belonging and that they matter to the university
 - Diverse community is often unmentioned
 - Imposter syndrome
- Meeting/connecting with peers
- Overcoming Community College Stigma
 - We only got here because CC was easy/not challenging
 - Poor people take the CC route
 - We aren't smart to succeed at UCLA
 - We are difficult to interact/communicate with

REFLECT: How has my knowledge of transfers changed?

Some questions to ask yourself include...

- Which of the statistics or facts stood out to me most?
- What was I surprised about?
- What do I feel equipped to talk about with my family and peers?

Consider...

- Understand that not all students are direct entry (4 - years)
- Use transfer inclusive language:
 - Call incoming students 1st year transfers or 3rd year students, NOT freshman or 1st years
- Recognize the validity of our past experiences, skills, attributes, and knowledge
- Be mindful that we often have many other responsibilities
 - Careers, jobs, families, commuting

ACTION:

- Active
 - Active actions refer to tangible measures that include or support transfer students
 - Examples include changing by-laws, adding transfer roles, or including transfers in spaces other than a transfer position
- Passive
 - Passive actions refer to ideological measures to include or support transfer students
 - Examples include asking yourself the transfer perspective question when making decisions as simple as a social media post or an event

Once we are allowed access to the FSC office, I and the FSC Campus Affordability committee directors will take inventory of our current iClicker supplies and other loaner materials to assess how best to expand during the school year. We hope to do this inventory in a few weeks, before Fall starts.

Josh: I just have 2 things I want us to think about, we need to make a decision within the next meeting or two whether fall meetings will be virtual or in person. Also, our next meeting is on the 23rd, the following meeting is on September 6th which is Labor day, so we won't be meeting this day. So you all will either need to do a meeting on either the 30th or the 13th. I just want to put that on your radar.

Fernando: Just a quick reminder from Irma, for those who have the funding to start paying your directors she would like to get the ball rolling so they can start getting paid by the beginning of the year.

A Statement in Support of Undocumented Students*

Gatica

USAC Statement in Support of Undocumented Students

The USAC Office of the President, Office of the Internal Vice President, Office of the External Vice President, General Representative 1, General Representative 2, General Representative 3, Academic Affairs Commission, Campus Events Commission, Community Service Commission, Cultural Affairs Commission, Facilities Commission, Financial Supports

Commission, Student Wellness Commission, Transfer Student Representative, and International Representative, affirm that we stand in complete solidarity with undocumented students at UCLA and the entire undocumented community as per the recent DACA decisions that occurred.

United States District Judge of Houston, Andrew S. Hanen, ruled on July 16th, 2021, in Texas v. The United States that the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) was unlawful as a result of President Barack Obama and the administration exceeded its authority by creating the program in 2012. The DACA program that consists of over 500,000¹ young immigrants, protects them from deportation and allows them to study, work, and live in the United States.

While DACA renewals will continue to move forward, the ruling prohibits the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) from approving first-time DACA applicants, leaving thousands of applicants, including those attending UCLA, unprotected for what should be basic rights.

As representatives of the student body, we condemn Hanen's decision that DACA is unlawful. We urge the university and entire University of California system to stand in solidarity with undocumented students. The UC system is an educational institution, and with that should work to ensure that undocumented students' rights to access and retention in higher education is protected from the unjust political, judicial, and immigration system that has clearly harmed immigrant communities. The UC system can do this by urging Congresspeople and Senators to pass citizenship for all undocumented immigrants and by ensuring that they are providing the resources undocumented people need to have access and retain themselves within their schools.

As a council, moving forward we will continue to stand in solidarity with undocumented students on campus and beyond. This includes working in collaboration with UCLA Improving Dreams, Equity, Access and Success (IDEAS) when it comes to advocacy work regarding undocumented students, to ensure that we as a council are making decisions with the community. Furthermore, we as a council, hereby commit ourselves to ensuring that the entirety of USAC and our individual offices and commissions are not only inclusive of undocumented students, but actively implement programs, initiatives, and provide resources that uplift, empower, and directly support the needs of undocumented students.

In solidarity,

Breeze Velazquez, President

Sarah Wang, External Vice President
Hailey Valles, General Representative 1

A Resolution in Support of Reusable Dining Ware at UCLA

Sponsors:

Jane Ni, Facilities Commissioner

Co-Sponsors:

Hailey Valles, General Representative One
Angelina Quint, Academic Affairs Commissioner

WHEREAS, UCLA dining, during normal operations, provides approximately 15,978 meals a day specifically in their takeout locations and these takeout boxes generate 212,967 pounds of waste per year and cost the university approximately $179,400 dollars per year²

WHEREAS the UC Office of the President released a UC Policy on August 24th, 2020, for all universities a part of the UC system to replace single-use plastic dining accessories (e.g., straws, utensils, stirrers) by July 1st, 2021 and for dine-in facilities to provide reusable food service items (e.g., plates, cups, clamshell containers) for food consumed on-site while to-go facilities provide reusable or locally compostable alternatives by July 1st, 2022³.

WHEREAS UCLA Policy 809: Single-Use Plastics effective date October 13th, 2020, which applies to Foodservice Facilities, Retail Stores, and vending machines on University Property, mandates the university to replace single-use plastic food ware items with reusable or locally compostable alternatives for to-go facilities by January 1st, 2021⁴.

WHEREAS students and staff have created and presented a proposal to UCLA Housing and Hospitality regarding switching from compostable to reusable dining ware and utensils with estimated cost calculations⁵

WHEREAS the proposed system would save the university money after the first year, since UCLA Dining will no longer need to be purchasing single use compostable containers and utensils. Students and staff have estimated that switching completely to a tracked reusable container system would save the university approximately $56,845 dollars in the first year and 113,764 dollars in years subsequently, as seen in the presentation linked above.

WHEREAS the proposed system would reduce the waste that is produced by 212,967 pounds per year, which aligns with the UC Sustainable Practices Policy that aims for 50% waste reduction by 2030

WHEREAS, Evidence from a life cycle assessment produced by UC Berkeley reveals that reusable clamshell systems have a lower environmental impact (in terms of greenhouse gas emissions, energy consumption, and material waste) than compostable clamshells when containers average at least 15 uses⁶.

WHEREAS other universities such as UC San Diego, Dartmouth University, and UW Madison have implemented these programs successfully by using a tracking system to ensure the return of reusable containers

THEREFORE LET IT BE RESOLVED that UCLA Housing and Hospitality recommit to supporting student projects and student-led initiatives and recommit to its sustainability goals
